Williams Steps Up Campaign; Questions Poll

By The Associated Press

G. Mennen Williams mended fences today in Muskegon County, one of the few Michigan areas in which he lagged in votes in the senatorial primary race.

In the Aug. 2 primary, Williams ran behind both Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh and Republican Sen. Robert P. Griffin in Muskegon County.

He told newsmen that in the contest with Griffin "I personally feel I'm still ahead, and I consider the poll on Nov. 8 to be the only one that counts."

Griffin was given a 51-48 per cent lead over Williams in a poll published recently by a Detroit newspaper. A source close to Williams questioned the findings, however, because only 1 per cent of the voters was listed in the undecided or not voting category, with the election still several weeks away.

Griffin voted with the majority in the 49-19 approval of the $1.75-billion war on poverty bill. The bill was reduced from $2.5 billion suggested by the Senate Labor Committee. Griffin voted in favor of the cut which brought the amount to that requested by President Johnson.

Griffin criticized what he said was a waste of money in operation of the antipoverty program's Job Corps and community action projects.

Williams has accused Griffin of voting against Project Head Start, the program to give preschool instruction to disadvantaged children.

Griffin said "I've always been in favor of the Head Start program. But we never had a chance to vote on it in a separate piece of legislation."

Tonight, Griffin will be guest of honor in a "Salute to Senator Griffin" dinner at Lansing. Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton will speak to the meeting.

Gov. George Romney, who will attend the Griffin dinner tonight, spoke today at a meeting of the Michigan Association of Farmers Cooperatives.

He appeared Tuesday before the Michigan State Building and Construction Trades Council in Detroit. Romney urged the AFL-CIO tradesmen to vote for him on the basis of his record "and not the distortions that are being thrown around."

Romney, who asserts that 48 per cent of the state's union members voted for him in 1964, said bills passed with his support since he has been governor established a state minimum wage, improved workmen's compensation and unemployment benefits and set up a construction safety commission.

Zolton Ferency, Democratic candidate for Romney's job, told a United Auto Workers local in Ann Arbor:

"By their fruits ye shall know them — the political parties," he said. "The Democratic tree has borne good fruit all these years. Democrats have been in the forefront for better social conditions, housing, education and civil rights standards."

Inez Spins Into Gulf Of Mexico

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Inez hammered Key West, the nation's southernmost city, with 90-mile-an-hour winds today and churned on into the Gulf of Mexico, looking for new coastlines to strike.

Born in the Atlantic Ocean, Inez cut a path of death and destruction through the Caribbean Sea, then returned to the Atlantic to lash the Bahamas and Florida.

Now, in her 12th day, she was in the Gulf, with 700,000 square miles of warm tropic water to refuel her engine and new coastal targets in nearly all directions.

Batters Keys

Lights blinked out in Key West and hundreds huddled inside shelters during a wild night in the blacked-out city.

Hurricane winds continued to rage in the lower Florida Keys as Inez moved into the Gulf across the Dry Tortugas, site of the Fort Jefferson National Monument, 68 miles out of Key West.

In the storm's wake, gusts of gale force continued throughout the Keys and up to the marshy southern rim of the Florida peninsula.

Along the southeast Florida "Gold Coast," which suffered only nuisance damage during a 24-hour hammering by gales up to 70 miles an hour, conditions were returning to normal.

Course Is Question

Forecasters, baffled for days by the vicious storm's erratic movements, wouldn't guess at her future course beyond tonight. By then, she should be gathering strength 300 miles west of the Keys.

From that area, depending on the guiding forces of nature, Inez could swing back over Florida toward the Atlantic again, roar into the southern Gulf states or go west to Central America.

September Car Sales Beat '65

DETROIT (AP) — The new car sales rate got a big boost in late September as buyers flocked to dealer showrooms to see the new 1967 models of most lines.

Preliminary sales reports from the four U. S. auto makers listed sales of 231,249 new cars in the Sept. 21-30 period, far ahead of the 179,989 sold in the like period last year.

New car model introduction came earlier this year, accounting in large part for the big uplift in sales.

Nine months sales totals showed this year's 6,176,439 ranked as the second biggest in automotive history. It was topped only by the 6,387,908 cars sold in the opening three quarters of 1965.

Typical of industry comments was that of H. E. Crawford, General Motors vice president-marketing, who said, "Our dealers report excellent customer traffic in their showrooms and good buying interest. We look forward to an outstanding 1967 model year."

Today's Chuckle

There are still a lot of wide - open spaces in this country; the trouble is that they're mostly surrounded by teeth.

AMC Hike Is $76 Per Car

DETROIT (AP)—Financially troubled American Motors joined its Big Three brethren today and boosted prices on 1967 models by an average $76 per car.

The announcement came two days before the company was to put its 1967 cars on sale and two weeks after industry pacesetter General Motors posted increases of $56 and forced the first price rollback in auto industry history.

The AMC hike of $76 compared with $66 for Ford and $65 for Chrysler. But where the other automakers left some models unchanged, AMC raised its prices across the board from $56 in the American line to $98 in the Ambassador.

Chrysler and Ford two weeks ago had announced average increases of more than $100 per car, but cut back last week to remain competitive with GM.

Dirksen Wins Spending Cut For President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has hit pay dirt in the Senate in his drive to hold down inflationary spending but the zig-zagging economy vein could run out quickly.

While the Senate was voting 45 to 27 Tuesday to lop about $750 million off antipoverty program authorizations, its Finance Committee was loading up a House-passed foreign investors tax bill with 22 amendments Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., said would drain $600 million out of the treasury.

Johnson's victory in holding antipoverty spending to the $1.75 billion he budgeted for it was achieved at the expense of projects sponsored within the Senate Labor Committee by Sens. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Both had contended the war on poverty should be escalated.

The cut in the over-all poverty outlays came after Johnson had taken the unusual course of summoning Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield to the White House Monday night.

Dirksen reported that Johnson "fulminated like Hurricane Inez" when he talked about Congress' trend toward boosting spending above the levels of his budget.

The result was a proposal by Mansfield to chop the $2.5 billion poverty bill back to $2.1 billion. Dirksen upped the ante by proposing a cut back to the $1.75 billion figure Johnson originally recommended. This was the antipoverty total approved by the House last week.

When the $1.75 billion proposal was adopted by a 49-20 Senate vote, it seemed to substantiate the feeling around the Senate that when Johnson really wants a job done he calls on Dirksen.

Court Refuses Hoffa Appeal In Fraud Case

CHICAGO (AP) — James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, has lost an appeal of his 1964 conviction for mail and wire fraud and conspiracy.

The 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld Tuesday in a 2-1 decision, the convictions of Hoffa and six co-defendants in connection with an alleged plot to defraud the Teamsters' pension fund of more than $1 million.

Hoffa's lawyers contended that the convictions were the result of "vicious publicity," prejudicial evidence and a running feud between Hoffa and Robert F. Kennedy, then U.S. attorney general.

In their majority decision, Judges F. Ryan Duffy and Latham M. Castle held that "each claim of error has been carefully considered and all such claims of error are hereby denied."

Hoffa was convicted by a jury and sentenced Aug. 18, 1964, to five years in prison by U.S. District Judge Richard B. Austin. He also was fined $10,000. The other defendants were sentenced to lesser terms and fined $5,000.

Judge Luther M. Swygert, in a dissenting opinion, held that the convictions should be reversed because of "trial errors."

The other defendants and their sentences are: Benjamin Dranow, five years; Calvin Kovens, Miami Beach, Fla., and Zachary A. Strate Jr., three years each; S. George Burris, New York, 18 months; Samuel Hyman, a Florida real estate developer, a year and a day; and Abe I. Weinblatt, Miami Beach, one hour.

Push Plan To Open Hancock Quincy Mine

HANCOCK (AP)—Geologists and engineers are studying the feasibility of reopening one of the oldest copper mines east of the Mississippi River at the Quincy copper range near Hancock in the Upper Peninsula.

The Quincy mine, whose three shafts were closed during the summer of 1945, once provided jobs for 600 persons. Its owners have distributed more than $30 million in dividends since the firm was founded in 1846.

Heading the move to reopen the mine is Jack Foley, formerly of the Great Lakes Industries of Dollar Bay. Quincy Mining Co. President W. Parsons Todd and the Community Action Agency, a group which seeks to promote economic growth of the Upper Peninsula.

Foley said the desire to reopen the property is in line with the federal government's hope to promote mining wherever there is copper.

An application for a federal technical assistance grant has been filed with Thomas Angeli, Upper Peninsula coordinator for the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Geologists claim the mine presently contains as much as 1.1 billion pounds of copper—as much as has been mined from it since it opened in 1846.

The Quincy mine was shut down after the government in 1945 ended a wartime subsidy for production of copper. The mine, which had been closed for some years prior to the war, was unable to compete with open-pit operations because of labor costs in hauling copper from its deep shafts.

The scientists say Quincy copper is among the finest in the Lake Superior copper region. Quincy copper is said to be rich in silver content and has superior electrical conductivity.

Developers say the move to reopen the mine is based on the federal government's willingness to supply funds to meet the acute copper shortage in the United States.

Independent engineering units studying the mine say many new technical developments have arisen since the mine was closed in 1945 which will simplify extraction and processing of the copper.

Among more advanced methods is the use of the flotation process in ore treatment. Under the process, particles of the mineral are separated from a mass of pulverized ore according to their relative capacity to float in liquid—usually treated water.

The entire mining and processing operation has become more mechanized also since the Quincy mine was closed. Electricity and natural gas are now used extensively instead of less efficient steam in providing power for equipment—especially hoists to remove the ore from the mine shafts.

Despite the increased use of machines, Foley said the mine is a strong source of potential employment in the area.

The Quincy Mining Co., in addition to the mine, owns a copper mill, smelter and a 10 mile railroad which touches at all points of the firm's operation.

Cycle Crash Fatal

RIVERVIEW (AP)—Brian Allen, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Allen of Southgate, was killed Tuesday when the motorcycle on which he was riding was hit by a car in this Detroit suburb. The boy's father, who was driving the cycle, is in critical condition in Wyandotte General Hospital.

Welcome Teachers!

"It is with pleasure and pride that I welcome all professional educators to Escanaba on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce and myself," said Dr. William G. Hemes, president of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce.

"Education has changed so much in the last 20, 10 and even five years that it is hard for us as lay people to comprehend what is required of our educators today."

"Besides the basics in education, with additional stress on science, our schools are called upon to lay a solid foundation in socio-economic principals for the students entry into the business world.

"The task appears monumental but fortunately our educators have not lost the dedication and enthusiasm that must be passed on to their students to create that thirst for knowledge.

Dr. William G. Hemes
President, Escanaba
Chamber of Commerce

"We find a new roll for teachers in our society today. Many are becoming active in civic affairs and politics which adds stature and scope to government.

"We certainly owe you our respect, admiration and support in your professional careers, and I hope your meetings here in Escanaba will prove to be beneficial for you."

Reds' Loss In Four Day Fight Mounts To 637

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. air cavalrymen and allied forces pressed relentlessly in on a badly mauled Communist force near the coast of central Viet Nam today and reported a mounting toll of 637 enemy troops killed or captured in four days of fighting.

The helicopter-borne American troops pushing down from the north claimed 43 more North Vietnamese regulars or Viet Cong killed in the last 24 hours of Operation Irving and 60 more captured.

Units of the South Korean Tiger Division, battering at the Reds from the south, said they killed 77 more Communists and captured three. Along with South Vietnamese infantrymen holding the western flank, the allied total reported since Sunday reached 443 enemy killed and an unprecedented 194 captured.

Weather Foul

The U.S. air offensive against North Viet Nam was hampered by foul weather, but B52 bombers, flying at high altitudes above the weather, struck twice in South Viet Nam.

The eight-engine jets hit at dawn today against a Communist bivouac and storage area 45 miles northwest of Qui Nhon, about 20 miles north of the allied forces in Operation Irving.

Other formations of B52s struck simultaneously at Viet Cong strongholds in the Seven Mountains area along the Cambodian border 120 miles southwest of Saigon. Their targets were training, resupply and base camp areas of the Viet Cong in flood-swept Chau Doc province.

Skyhawk Lost

U.S. pilots flew 125 bombing missions against North Viet Nam Tuesday and lost one plane, the U.S. Command announced. A Navy A4 Skyhawk was shot down, the 362nd U.S. loss reported in the war over the north. The pilot is missing.

U.S. pilots aimed most of their strikes against Communist water traffic and storage buildings. They reported destroying or damaging 75 barges, junks and ferries and more than 50 buildings in staging and storage areas.

U.S. pilots flew 393 sorties against Viet Cong targets in South Viet Nam Tuesday and claimed they destroyed or damaged 263 huts, structures, bunkers and fortifed positions and 10 sampans. South Vietnamese pilots flew 169 combat sorties.

Operation Irving on the central coast appeared to be developing into one of the most successful allied campaigns of the war. The size of the enemy force was unknown, but one report said it included elements of North Viet Nam's 610th Division.

Allied casualties were reported light.

Many Captives

As the ground troops drew in closer on their foe in the coastal mountains and lowlands, U.S. and Vietnamese patrol boats kept up a constant watch along the coast to block any attempt of the beleaguered Communists to escape.

The average ratio in the Viet Nam war has been 5 or 6 enemy killed for every one captured, but in Operation Irving it has been less than 2 to 1.

The U.S. cavalrymen reported killing 35 Communists Tuesday in a five-hour battle 25 miles northwest of Qui Nhon. The fighting broke out in a mangrove swamp after enemy gunfire downed a U.S. observation helicopter, the fourth lost since the operation began. The pilot of the helicopter was injured but his observer escaped unhurt, the spokesman said.

Elsewhere in South Viet Nam, 10 American servicemen were killed and 20 others injured in the crash Tuesday of a U.S. Army transport plane at An Khe, the cavalry headquarters 250 miles northeast of Saigon.

Commander Wounded

A military spokesman said the two-engine plane, carrying 32 persons, crashed into a mountain while making a landing approach in foggy weather. Some of the casualties were

Urban Renewal Area Approved

The Escanaba Planning Commission made two important decisions Tuesday afternoon that advanced the city's planning program in a continuing study aided by professional planning consultants Harland Bartholomew & Associates.

The Commission:

1 — Approved the area outlined by the planning consultants as the area for inclusion in the proposed urban renewal program.

The approval paves the way for the city to make a preliminary application for an Urban Renewal project, which would ultimately bring federal fund participation of 75 per cent of the total cost of redevelopment.

2 — Accepted the preliminary land use map and central business district map as presented by the planning consultants.

The firm of Harland, Bartholomew can now move ahead in the preparation of the planning report, which will contain maps and other information. About 200 copies will be printed and made available to interested persons.

Beamish, who studied French in France for two years, has his bachelor's degree from Northern Michigan University and his master's degree from Purdue University. He will preside over the opening session of the conference.

Invocation will be delivered by Rev. Konstantin Wipp, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Luther M. Barrett, superintendent of the Escanaba Area schools, will welcome teachers. Remarks by Carmen DelliQuadri, member of the State Board of Education, will preceed Kennedy's address.

Throughout the two-days of meetings, more than 100 commercial exhibits will be available to teachers for viewing.

(A spokesman for the MEA in Escanaba today announced that Clevenger's Congressional opponent, Philip Ruppe (R-Houghton), had been extended an invitation to also speak before one of the conference's general sessions. Ruppe accepted the invitation, the MEA said, but was not sure which meeting his campaign schedule would allow him to face.)

Shopping Plaza Held Answer To Downtown Slump

More space for retail stores and more parking area for customers' cars will be required as Escanaba's population grows to a projected 20,000 within the next 20 years, the Rotary Club was told Tuesday noon.

The speaker was Thompson Dyke, planning representative for Harland, Bartholomew & Associates, St. Louis, professional planning consultants retained by the City of Escanaba.

A feature of the proposed central business district plan is a shopping plaza to be located at 1st Ave. N. in the 1000 and 1100 blocks.

The plaza would center the retail business district and would lend itself to a mall treatment, where there would be trees and shrubs, a place where shoppers could walk about or be seated, Dyke said. The plaza would open into the stores and be ringed by public parking lots.

Perhaps in the future the plaza might well be roofed in whole or in part, providing comfortable all-weather shopping, Dyke said.

The planning program is now in its discussion and study stage and later, should the Planning Commission and the Council approve, the city might make application for redevelopment under Urban Renewal, in which federal funds are received in the amount of 75 per cent of the total cost.

The local 25 per cent share of the cost could include "payments in lieu of cash" such as street work and other related improvements.

Urban Renewal does not necessarily mean the razing of all of the structures in the area, Dyke pointed out. Buildings in good condition are retained, others might be improved, some will be relocated.

One of the needs, with the growing volume of auto ownership and use, will be additional parking space. The plan calls for a total of 2,200 spaces, 600 more than there is now in the downtown area.

Replying to a question, Dyke said that construction of an elevated parking facility was not being considered at this time. The cost per car space for such a structure is $1,750.

Dyke also said that in his opinion the limiting of a proposed S. 23rd St. shopping center area to 10 acres will not damage the downtown business district. A larger area would seriously affect the plans for a downtown shopping plaza, he added.

Isadore Stein, Rotary Club president, conducted the meeting and the speaker was introduced by George Harvey, city manager and Rotarian.

Lt. Gen. Lewis W. Walt, commander of U.S. Marine Forces in Viet Nam, was nicked in the head by a sliver of aluminum Tuesday when an enemy bullet hit his helicopter during a flight to inspect the Marine battleground just below the demilitarized zone.

The general, 53, "didn't even ask for a bandaid," a spokesman said. He completed his inspection and flew on to Saigon for a conference.

American troop strength in South Viet Nam passed 321,000 today with the arrival of another brigade of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division at Nha Trang, on the central coast.

The force of about 4,000 soldiers began disembarking from the transport General Gordon and were being flown to the division's headquarters at Pleiku.

Ann Landers;

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have been married 10 years. In all that time there has been sort of an unwritten law in the house that whenever we have chicken for dinner he was to get the breast. The children like the legs and I like the wings and the neck (which no one else seems to care much about) so everything works out.

Last night for some reason I can't explain, the breast looked awfully good to me and I reached over to put it on my plate. All of a sudden I felt a fork bearing down on my wrist.

I looked up into the angriest eyes I have ever seen. My husband screamed, "You know the breast is my piece. How dare you take it?" With that he picked up his salad and silver and walked into the living room to finish his meal. All of this was in front of the children.

I tried to explain that his performance was uncalled for but he wouldn't even speak to me. I told him he had behaved like a 12-year-old child. Do you agree? — A. W. C.

Dear A.W.C.: No. Most 12-year-olds behave better than that. Would you believe 4?

From now on instead of buying a whole chicken, select the pieces you want, Lady.

Dear Ann Landers: I know you can't analyze me by mail but you have a way of helping people with just the right sentence or two. I'm hoping you can do something for me.

I'm 32, have been married for three years and both my husband and I want a family awfully bad.

The problem is that I am petrified of childbirth. Whenever a friend tells me she is pregnant I become so envious I can hardly stand it. Then I get to thinking about the agony of labor pains and I'm glad it's not me.

The conflict is terrible and I don't know what to do about it. I know I'm being unfair to my husband and this has caused terrible guilt feelings. Is there any hope for me? — CHILDLESS.

Dear Childless: There are over 3 billion people in the world and every single one of them got here the same way.

Some women have prolonged and excruciating deliveries. Other women have had such speedy deliveries that their babies are born in taxis, or on hospital lawns and in elevators.

Make an appointment with an obstetrician and discuss your anxieties. He will describe the various types of anesthesia which I'm sure will give you reassurance. And you can look at it this way, too: If you had an attack of appendicitis you'd have the bellyache and nothing to show for it.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 20 years old and going with a nice young man who is 22. I met him at work.

This fellow gave me a very pretty pin for my birthday. He didn't SAY the little stones were diamonds but he tried to give the impression they were by telling me the pin "set him back a lot."

This morning one of the sets fell out and it's sure as heck a rhinestone. Should I let him know that I know the stones aren't real? — KIND OF DISAPPOINTED.

Dear Kind: The stones ARE real — real rhinestones, Kiddo. Concern yourself with whether the fellow is real and forget about the pin. Get the point?

★ ★ ★

Is alcoholim a disease? How can the alcoholic be treated? Is there a cure? Read the booklet "Alcoholism — Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 35c in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

New! Only from Hamm's!

Real Draft Beer in new all-aluminum cans

The first perfect take-home package for draft beer

Hamm's real draft beer, brewery fresh from the tap, is beer at its best.

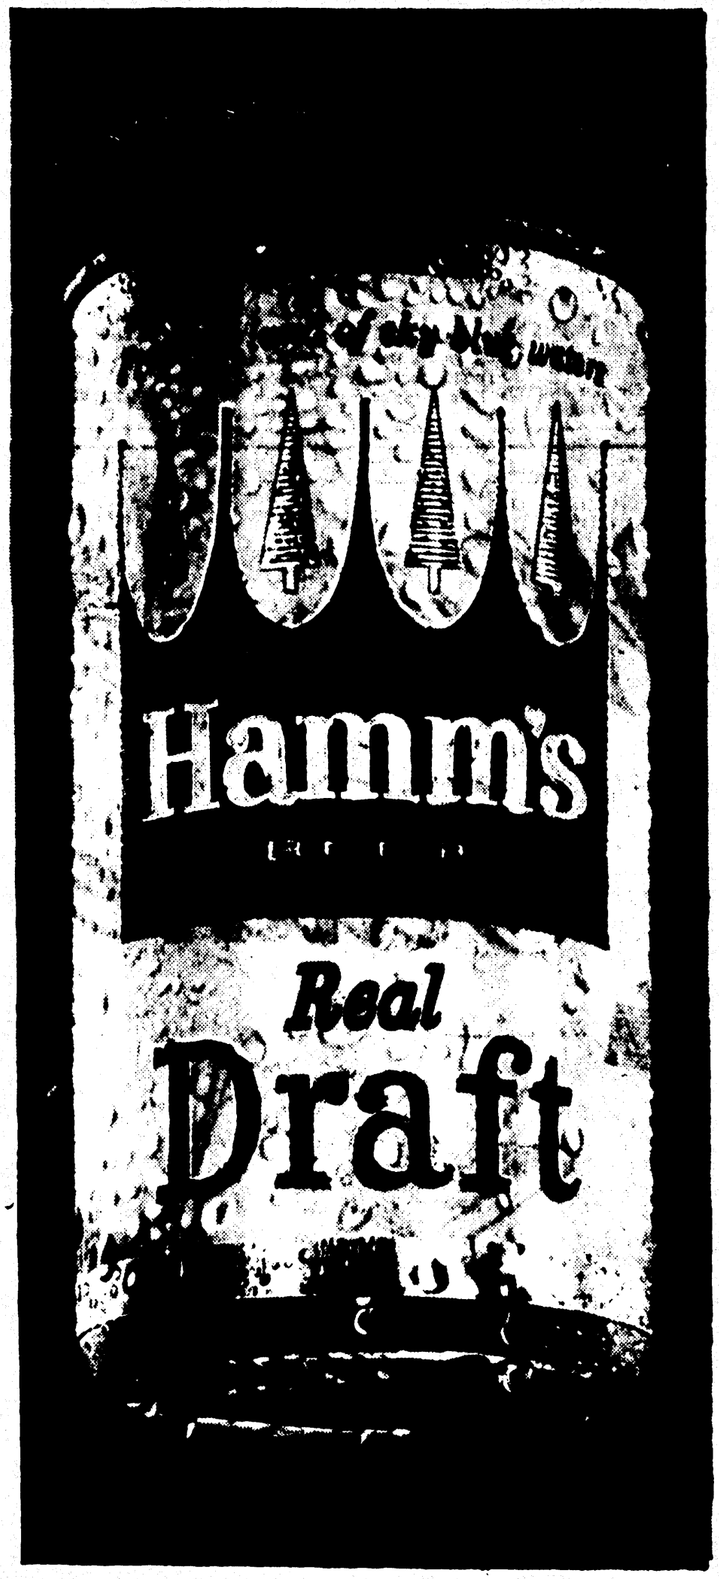
Beer drinkers know how good a glass of Hamm's draft beer tastes. They know the smooth, mellow, non-filling lightness of draft is light and easy on your thirst.

Until now, the fine draft beer brewed by Hamm's has not been bottled or canned because Hamm's felt they could not insure the high quality and delicate draft beer flavor of Hamm's for you in conventional take-home packages.

All-aluminum protects the delicate flavor of draft beer.

Brewers have known for years that aluminum is the one metal that actually protects the delicate flavor of draft beer. No other container can do the job as well. That's why Hamm's uses only all-aluminum kegs for their draft beer.

Seven years ago, Hamm's and the Reynolds Metals Co. began an extensive research program to develop a take-home package for draft beer.



That patience and research has paid off, with this, the most perfect package for draft beer.

The new seamless, all-aluminum can.

Different from the all-aluminum draft beer keg only in size, shape and tap. You tap the all-aluminum can with a quick snap of the new ring-pull tab.

Now, Hamm's real draft beer, in the new all-aluminum can, is the same brewery fresh real draft beer you've always enjoyed before, but only on tap.

New can offers both protection and convenience.

Other advantages of this new all-aluminum can: It's light-weight, chills fast, can't rust. So friendly to the taste of beer. It gives Hamm's real draft beer the protection of aluminum, and the convenience of the new ring-pull tab.

Take a six-pack of Hamm's new all-aluminum cans home today, and tap a can of Hamm's real draft beer...refreshing as the Land of Sky Blue Waters.

From the Land of Sky Blue Waters comes the water best for brewing

Archer Falls On Arrow; Dies From Loss Of Blood

GREEN POINT, Pa. (AP) — A young man hunting deer with a bow and arrow died Tuesday when he fell from a tree, impaled himself on one of his arrows and bled to death, state police said.

Police said Robert L. Sholly, 25, Lebanon, Pa., was on a platform he had built in a tree when he dropped his quiver of arrows.

While climbing down, he fell on the quiver and an arrow went into his thigh.

He walked a mile to his car and then drove for another mile but lost consciousness and died, police said.

Fire Destroys Cattle Barn

BARK RIVER — A fire believed to have been started by lightning Tuesday destroyed a barn on the Stanley Kwarciany farm on County Rd. 535 about five miles south of Bark River.

About 3,500 bales of hay, a tractor and wagon, a hay baler, potato digger, milking machine and some tools were lost in the fire. Two pigs also were destroyed.

Firemen of the Bark River Volunteer Fire Dept. responded to the fire shortly after 5:30 p. m. with two trucks and 12 men and were able to save the family residence which was located about 100 feet from the barn. The dairy herd and chickens were not in the barn at the time the fire started.

The barn was 32 by 62 feet with a 24 x 62 addition. It was partially covered by insurance.

Mrs. Kwarciany said the family was at home when one of the children looked out of the window and said there was a light in the barn. She said when she checked, she discovered the fire. The fire broke out shortly after a thunder and lightening storm hit the area.

Special Education Marquette Meet On October 19-20

LANSING (AP)—In efforts to improve the teaching of mentally handicapped youngsters, the State Department of Education has started a series of 10 Saturday workshops for teachers. The department also plans a two-day conference at Marquette Oct. 19-20 on all areas of special education.

Ag Board Meets:

Pedestrian Gates Asked For Fair

Would you believe another fence for the Upper Peninsula State Fairgrounds?

Cliff Perras, secretary-manager of the U.P. Fair, put in a pitch for another fence Tuesday before the State Arigriculture Commission.

The commission, controlling body over the U. P. Fair Board of Managers, met for six hours at the State Office Buliding in one of several meetings conducted throughout the state during the year.

Perras said a request for about $10,000 for another cyclone fence around the fairgrounds to gain better crowd control would be included in the 1967 budget request.

Individual turnstiles would be installed at new pedestrian gates and everyone would pay admission charges as they entered the exhibition and midway area on foot, he explained. This would allow better control of admissions, avoid traffic backup at automobile gates where gate charges were collected this year and produce larger revenues to improve fair programs, he said.

Relationship Explored

"This method would pay for itself in one year," he continued, "and also allow us to eliminate about 20 employes from our payroll."

Perras said the ultimate goal of the Fair Board was to get the U.P. Fair accounts into the black.

In line with that approach, admission was charged last August for the first time in many years.

"We've made some strides," Perras reported, "but you can't expect us to eliminate a $70,000 annual deficit in one year."

Relationship of the U.P. Fair Board to its new controlling body was also explored and Blaque Knirk, chairman of the Agriculture Commission, said that while his commission had final responsibility for the fair, it was still up to the Fair Board to "run the show."

Mrs. Ruth Butler, Fair Board vice chairman from Houghton, appealed for greater cooperation between the two groups and also for a joint meeting between the U. P. Fair Board, the Michigan State Fair Board of Managers and the Agriculture Commission.

City Makes Bid

Policy set by the commission applies to both fairs, she pointed out, and it should be recognized that there are great differences, both in size and location, between the two.

Escanaba City Manager George Harvey also appeared before the Commission to offer cooperation of the city in the proposed new exhibition building development at the fairgrounds. Harvey said the city was interested in constructing the building in such a manner as to make it useful for city recreation and meeting hall purposes.

Inother business, the Agriculture Commission approved a $900 premium appropriation for the U.P. Potato Growers Association show scheduled in Escanaba Nov. 2-3; set Nov. 3 as date to meet with Michigan State Fair Board in Lansing; set Oct. 13-14 as dates for hearings on meat processing investigation in the Grand Rapids area, and heard various reports.

Schipper Retires

ZEELAND (AP)—School Supt. Julius F. Schipper, active in public education 40 years, said Tuesday he will retire July 1. Schipper, 59, has held his present post 15 years. He said he will devote his time to religious work.

OFFICERS ELECTED by the Michigan Tourist Council at its meeting in Manistique this week are, from left: James Hall, Bay City, president; Kenneth Dorman, Houghton, secretary; Wesley Tebo, Muskegon, retiring president; Ralph Gillam of the Manistique Motel, meeting host; and Creighton Holden, president of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce, the new vice president of the Tourist Council. (Daily Press Photo)

A special meeting of Escanaba Commandery 47, will be held at the Masonic Temple Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

The Douglas Houghton chapter, Michigan Society of Professional Engineers, met Tuesday night at the Sherman Hotel for a program on Escanaba's downtown urban renewal plans presented by Thompson Dyke and Dave Kennedy of Harland Bartholomew & Associates, planners retained by the city. Rodger Murray, secretary, presided over the session.

Mrs. Randall D. Lancour (Gordon Nelson Photo)

Kathleen LaMarche Wed To Randall D. Lancour

Miss Kathleen Marie LaMarche became the bride of Randall Dale Lancour during a double ring ceremony performed Saturday, Sept. 24 at St. Thomas the Apostle Church in Escanaba.

Officiating at the nuptials at 11 a. m. was the Rev. Arnold Thompson.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence LaMarche of Rte. 1 Gladstone and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Lancour also of Gladstone Rte. 1.

Maid of honor for her sister was Judy LaMarche of Danforth and bridesmaid was Debbie Lancour of Groos, a sister of the bridegroom.

They were attired in identical gowns of powder blue acetate brocade styled with bell shaped skirts. Long white gloves and satin slippers complimented their attire and their headpieces were matching blue crowns with seed pearl and illusion trim. Their cross pendants were a gift of the bride. They carried bouquets of red roses and white carnations.

Flower girl was Lorrie Jean Lancour sister of the bridegroom and she wore a blue gown styled identical to the bridesmaid's.

Satin Brocade

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor length fitted gown of white satin metallic brocade styled with a gentle scoop neckline, long tapered sleeves and a detachable chapel length train. Her cross pendant was a gift of the bridegroom. A crown trimmed with seed pearls held her elbow length veil and she carried a cascading arrangements of red roses and white carnations. The bride's gown, bridesmaids' gowns and the flower girl's gown were styled by the bridegroom's mother.

Serving as bestman was David Lancour of Groos and groomsman was Terry Van Brocklin of Gladstone. Seating the guests were Joseph Lancour of Flat Rock, uncle of the bridegroom and Leonard LaMarche, Milwaukee, brother of the bride. Ring bearer was Jody Lancour, brother of the bridegroom.

Mother's Attire

The mother of the bride selected for her daughter's wedding a two piece loden green satin brocade suit with brown accessories and corsage of red roses and white carnations. Mrs. Lancour wore a three piece beige satin brocade suit with olive green accessories and was also presented a corsage of red roses and white carnations.

The wedding reception for 300 guests was held at the Riveriand Ballroom.

Following a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination the couple will make their home at Rte. I, Gladstone.

The bride is a graduate of Escanaba Area High School and Mr. Lancour graduated from Gladstone High School. He is presently attending I. T. C. School at Marquette.

Carol Gorzinski Bride Of Daniel L. Vincent

St. Francis Xavier Church in Spalding was the setting Saturday, Sept. 10 for the double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Carol Lynn Gorzinski of Wilson and Daniel Lee Vincent of Hermansville.

Rev. Walter Franczek heard the solemn exchange of vows at 11 o'clock in the morning.

The bride is the daughter of Joseph Gorzinski of Wilson and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Vincent of Hermansville.

Embroidered Train

The bride chose a floor length gown of Beau-Ganza rayon styled with a scoop neckline, long tapered sleeves and a fitted bodice. Detailing the back of the gown was an embroidered chapel train. Her elbow length veil of bridal illusion was caught by a crown of petals held in place by seed pearls and flowered sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and green foliage. Her only jewelry was a sterling silver cross with a cultured pearl, a gift of the bridegroom.

Maid of honor was Elizabeth Gorzinski, a cousin of the bride and bridesmaids were Linda Vincent, sister of the bridegroom and Dianne Vincent, a cousin of the bridegroom. Flower girl was Debbie Dombrowski of Carney and she was dressed in a miniature replica of the bride's gown.

Loden Green

The attendants were dressed alike in floor length gowns of loden green fashioned with scoop necklines and elbow length sleeves. They wore matching headpieces and carried bouquets of gold pompons.

Serving as bestman was Earl Poquette, a cousin of the bridegroom and groomsmen were Roger LaCoursier of Hermansville and Bryan Vincent of Stephenson. Performing ushering duties were Gary Ligocki of Milwaukee and Clarence Ayotte of Hermansville. John Gorzinski, Escanaba, a nephew of the bride was ringbearer.

The wedding reception was held from 3 to 8 p. m. at the Legion Hall in Hermansville for 400 guests.

For attending the wedding and reception, Mrs. Vincent selected a three salmon colored suit of satin brocade with matching accessories and was presented a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Following a honeymoon trip to an undisclosed destination, the newlyweds will make their home in Wilson. The bride is a graduate of Powers-Spalding High School and Mr. Vincent graduated from Hermansville High School.

ANNIVERSARY SPEAKER for the Oct. 6 dedication of the Winston Churchill Memorial and Library at Westminster College, Fulton, Mo., is Dr. Kim Jong Pil, chairman of South Korea's majority Democratic - Republican party. He will deliver the 20th anniversary Green Lecture. It was on the Westminster campus in 1946 that Winston Churchill delivered his "Iron Curtain" address as one of the college's annual Green Lestures on ethics and foreign affairs, marking the beginning of the Cold War. The 20 years between the two addresses have seen a shift in Cold War emphasis — from the Soviet Union to Communist China as the major threat to free world peace and security.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS

Established March 19, 1909
W. H. Treloar, Publisher
R[illegible] K. KAZIATECK, General Manager JEAN WORTH, Editor

Welcome Teachers

The Michigan Education Association conference for Upper Peninsula region members opens in Escanaba on Thursday. The conference is one of the most important of the year in the Peninsula, examining public schooling and its new directions.

The general sessions bring stimulation from leaders of education and the work sessions tackle specific problems in study areas, from agriculture to mental health, from driver education to mathematics. There's a social whirl that goes along with the conference as alumni groups and special interest organizations dine and discuss their specialties.

The Catholic Education Association of the Upper Peninsula will be meeting at Holy Name High School while the MEA is at Escanaba Area High School to share opportunities of joint progress. There are more than 2,500 members of the MEA in the Upper Peninsula, staffing public schools from Ironwood to DeTour and most of them will be here for the sessions.

* * *

We suppose that each year when the schools are closed for two days to free the teachers so that they may "go to school" briefly and be charged for the year ahead, there is some special urgency in their meeting. But it seems to us that public schooling is in a period of special trial and opportunity at this time.

Teachers are more assertive than they ever have been before. There have been teachers strikes in the schools of the state and, whatever we may think of such actions, they certainly indicate a new attitude of self-expression on the part of teachers. The threadbare, devoted schoolmarm image is gone, and good riddance.

There is insistence on a new professionalism, on more income, more fringes, more privileges. The teachers believe that out of their new attitude will come a new proficiency cued to meeting the demands upon teachers today. The public must hope that this will happen because schooling truly is in a situation of great change.

* * *

Only a few years ago we were educating the young only and only for a society which was still mostly rural, for a scientific situation which was rather static, for government which was minimal, and for an economy which was still strongly individualistic and emphatically free enterprise.

Since World War II there has been an unprecedented acceleration in change. Our people are strongly urban now and immensely mobile, with one family in five moving every year. Scientific progress has erupted so violently that it is almost impossible for the schools to keep their texts and their teachers current with progress. The economy has been invaded deeply by government, which has grown into a colossus that makes the experimentation of Franklin Roosevelt look very mild in retrospect.

* * *

Our people have changed more than they realize. The day laborer with willing hands and a strong back but no job skills has become surplus in the manpower market. Industries which, a relatively few years ago, were concerned about their laid-off workers are now wondering where they can get enough employes. We are on a national brain binge of historic enormity. Education is our hope of understanding the complexity that we have created and of serving its further growth and development.

The MEA serves this function in the very important period from kindergarten through secondary school. It calls for teachers with good minds and excellent training and it calls for the new assertiveness which we note in our teachers. Unless they themselves take a vigorous stand for the improvement of faculty we don't see how it can be accomplished, and if our schools do not improve there's not much hope that society and the economy can develop as they should to meet the challenges that grow from our shrinking world and increasing income, our personal uncertainties and our national strength.

Mackinac College Sets Sights High

MACKINAC ISLAND — The Upper Peninsula's eighth institution of higher education set itself a difficult goal of serving an intellectual revolution at the inauguration of its first president here on Oct. 1.

S. Douglas Cornell, the president, said Mackinac College, organized by leaders of Moral Re-Armament (MRA) and with 113 enrolled for its first semester of a hoped for 200 to 250 students, will stress quality in character and purpose.

The college's quest, Cornell told 1,000 guests, faculty members and students, has been made a necessary battleground in education by the imbalance of the technological revolution, by the disparity between man's conduct and his technical capacity and by the pressure of his growing numbers and the threat of his growing power.

American educators, he said, having achieved so much after the Russians launched Sputnik to speed up a revolution in American technical education, became concerned that there was little corresponding worry about the framework of purpose in men's lives, within which the stored knowledge and sharpened intellect are put to use.

Dr. Cornell described it as ironic that in a period when so much thought and ingenuity are put into recording a man's knowledge, that so little effort goes into the problem of man himself—"of how to modernize his motives and aims, of how to enhance his vision, raise his sights and encourage him to devote his energies and creative talent to a selfless purpose relevant to the times in which we live."

Dr. Cornell, who received his bachelor and doctor degrees from Yale University, has headed the National Academy of Sciences and the National Research Council for 12 years. A widower with four children, he has a son, Stephen, 19, who is a student at Mackinac.

The MRA gift to the college included $3.5 million worth of buildings and facilities and the rest of its buildings—worth $3 million—were purchased by the college.

The campus has 21 acres with buildings including a 400 bed men's dormitory, a 250 bed women's dormitory, and a library building being used for classrooms until a new $1.5 million classroom-laboratory facility can be completed next fall. It is being given by Mr. and Mrs. W. Van Alan Clark of New York. He is honorary chairman of the board of Avon Products.

Conestoga "Stogies"

New Law Brings Housing Shortage For The Poor

LANSING (AP)—A new law designed to improve the life of Michigan poor may, instead, add to their problems, a state welfare expert says.

The law, which takes effect 90 days after the Legislature adjourns, prohibits the use of state welfare rent funds for substandard housing. If implemented immediately the law took effect, new housing rules would cause a housing shortage for welfare recipients, says Lynn Kellogg, deputy director of the State Social Services Department.

"It seems to me that if we come up with any kind of standards that are meaningful they will create a housing shortage for welfare recipients (by eliminating housing now in use)," he said.

The department, Kellogg added, is working on rules to cover sanitary facilities, plumbing, wiring, heating and other facilities.

Welfare agencies across the state, he said, already are experiencing low-cost housing shortages because of urban renewal and freeway construction.

Kellogg said he hoped the department would be able to phase in new rules, adding:

"I can't visualize that we'd cut people off abruptly without making some provisions for their care."

The higher standards also may increase state welfare costs — assuming that better housing will mean higher rents and more advance damage deposits demanded by landlords.

Oswald asks Jim what he thinks is the principal difference between rubber bridge and duplicate play.

Jim: "You already know the answer. At duplicate you go after extra tricks. At rubber bridge you are far more concerned with the safety of the contract."

Oswald: "Here is a hand played recently by Bobby Wolff of San Antonio. I can't say that I approve of his opening bid of one no-trump with five hearts, four clubs and two suits unstopped but there was nothing wrong with the final contract of three no-trump. West opened the jack of diamonds. Bobby won in his own hand and counted five hearts, three diamonds and a club provided that the hearts behaved properly for him. Then he studied awhile, led back a diamond and finessed dummy's nine spot."

Jim: "That was strictly a duplicate play. At rubber bridge Bobby would have been happy to go after his nine tricks by running off hearts right away. In duplicate Bobby wanted four no-trump in order to be sure to outscore anyone who bid and made four hearts."

Oswald: "Right. It is important to note that careless play might have cost Bobby his contract later on. When the nine of diamonds held Bobby's next play was to lead the ten of hearts, not the five, to his king. Then he returned to dummy with the queen of hearts, cashed the ace of diamonds, led the five of hearts, finessed his nine after East followed low and made his four no-trump for a top score."

Jim: "An automatic play for a player of Bobby's caliber. Experts just don't trap themselves by playing the wrong low card."

Lord's Acre Sale Set For Saturday

The Fayette Congregational Church is sponsoring its annual Lord's Acre Auction to be held at the Fairbanks Town Hall on Saturday, Oct. 8.

The Town Hall is located a short distance south of Fayette State Park on the Garden Peninsula, and lunch will be served there by the women of the Congregational Church beginning at 11:30 a. m.

Auctioning of the many articles to be offered for sale as a benefit to the church will begin at 12:30 o'clock.

The auctioneers will be Howard Gierke, Fred Lang and Glen Thill and everything contributed to the sale will go on the block before the afternoon ends.

A variety of articles—including some antiques from the homes of the Fayette area—will be on the auction list, it is reported by Mrs. Harold Stern, of the Lord's Acre committee.

One of the larger antique items already donated is a marble-topped commode, and other articles are expected, she said.

"Our church is located near the tip of the Garden Peninsula," she said. "It is a mission church and there is not much chance of increasing our membership. There is little industry and young people move out to attend college or seek employment after high school."

"Our friends and neighbors of other faiths help to make the Lord's Acre Auction the success that it has been in the past, with their gifts as well as donations from the merchants," Mrs. Stern reported.

Most of the auction items will come from the Fayette farms and fields—sweet apple juice and jams and jellies, home-baked goods, fresh vegetables, fish fresh and smoked, potted flowering plants, and a variety of winter bouquets.

The women of the church also are offering hand-made quilts, rugs, knitted afghans, and other articles.

The auction is held at a season when the drive down the scenic Garden Peninsula is particularly colorful, with the roadsides, hills and shores bordered by bright Autumn foliage.

School Board Looks Forward, Sets Tax Rate

The Gladstone Board of Education took a look toward the future while keeping its mind on present tax needs Monday at its regular meeting.

The Board formulated plans to invite interested school districts to participate in a long-range study on the possibility of enlarging the school district.

It also set 1966-67 tax rates for the current district.

The Board established an operating millage rate of 10.67 and approved levy of 11.1 mills for debt retirement. Total of 21.77 mills was an increase of .6 mill over last year due to an increase in the debt retirement needs because of gym construction and the additional bond issue.

Operating millage levy remained the same.

Supt. Wallace Cameron said the long-range study on school district enlargement or consolidation will be initiated in an attempt to study future school needs of the area.

Audit Reviewed

A proposal to join Gladstone, Rapid River, Perkins, Flat Rock, Brampton and Rock school districts was defeated by voters of the district earlier this year in a Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District Reorganization election.

A review of the audit showed a revenue of $472,559.86 and total expenses amounting to $453,775.68. Cameron pointed out the revenue total included $10,464.75 of encumbered government funds.

Cameron reported an increase in enrollment of 93 students over the 1965 school year. Currently, 592 students are attending Kindergarten through sixth grade and 729 in seventh through twelfth grade for a total of 1321. The 1965-66 enrollment was 565 in K-6 and 663 in grades 7-12 for a total of 1228.

Continue Program

In other business, the board approved the continuance of the remedial reading program under Title 1, and tabled gas rate contract for school heating pending clarification of the rate.

Cameron reported negotiations with teachers were progressing satisfactorily after the second meeting. Wages have been established in a previous agreement but several other contract items have not as yet been settled.

Possibility of modernization of the the chemistry and physics labs has been considered and Cameron was authorized to prepare a project investigating the N. D. E. A. project on lab equipment.

Packaging Truth Bill Passes House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The "truth-in-packaging" bill passed by the House would give the federal government authority to regulate such things as "cents off" campaigns and use of labels like "giant economy size."

It also would set mandatory federal labeling standards and would give the government authority to bring manufacturers together to work out voluntary standards for packaging.

But the bill's friends and enemies alike agree it is weak.

Saturday Afternoon Open House

Public To See Eaton Oct. 15

The public showing of Eaton Yale & Towne Inc.'s big new Gladstone factory building will have a preview.

The public will be invited to visit the new factory from 1 to 4 p. m. on Saturday, Oct. 15 when the factory will not be operating. The plant cannot be shown to the public in operation, Eaton officials said, because of hazards and the impossibility of equipping large numbers of persons with safety glasses and giving it the other protections needed for inspecting plant operations.

Eaton has invited 200 persons to a preview of the plant opening which will provide the occasion for its dedication at 3 p. m. Tuesday, Oct. 11. This visitation of the operating plant will be followed by a dinner for Eaton's guests from the area at the Terrace Supper Club in the evening, when Robert P. Gerholz of Flint, president of Gerholz Community Homes, Inc., and several affiliated firms, will be the speaker. Gerholz was the 1965 president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Gerholz is a director of the Michigan National Bank of Flint and the central board of the Michigan National Bank of Lansing. He has served as president of the National Association of Home Builders and of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

He has built almost $100 million worth of houses, apartment and commercial buildings in Flint and its suburbs.

As national president of the Chamber of Commerce he worked to persuade more businessmen to apply their special skills and resources in the solving of national problems and promoting growth.

He will be introduced by William A. Mattie of Cleveland group vice president, general products of Eaton Yale & Towne. The speakers will include E. L. Ludvigsen, president of the big components manufacturer, and Fred L. Hopf, Kenosha, general manager of the Dynematics Division, of which the Gladstone operations are a part.

Venice Launches Anti-Rat Battle

VENICE, Italy (AP)—Venice plans to launch a massive year-long campaign this month against a growing plague of rats so tough they frighten cats and so clever they sneer at traps.

These are no ordinary rats. They come from an island used as the city dump and more and more of them have been swimming over to Venice to take up residence.

Hygiene officials say the garbage dump rats are so big and mean that the canal city's famous cats, traditionally considered Venice's best antirodent insurance, run away from them. The rats also have become wise to rat traps and are seldom caught by them.

City Hygiene Commissioner Vito Chiarelli has assigned 600 city employes to distribute to every house, store and office in Venice morsels of food prepared with rat poison. Under the plan, poisoned food will be left inside all buildings in hope the rats will carry it off to their hiding places for themselves and their offsprings.

There are four children in the family, Harold Sinnaeve, of Gwinn, Mrs. Gerald Bazinet, of Rock, Mrs. James Brassick, Gladstone and Mrs. Waeghe.

Moscow's Sober Up Stations Are Called Too Kind

MOSCOW (AP) —One of Moscow's better-known institutions — the sobering-up station—has come under attack for being too hospitable.

The capital's popular newspaper, Vechernyaya Moskva (Evening Moscow), called for some limit on the number of visits a "client" can make in a year.

It satirized "champions" who stagger in frequently, get bedded down, take a headache powder in the morning, wash up and wander off. The cost is 8 rubles —$8.88.

Drunkenness, as such, is not a crime and the clients at the sobering-up stations are not booked. They can make use of the facilities whenever their condition warrants it.

Comrad Antoshin, head of Moscow's sobering-up station No.7, called Viktor Gulayev and Leonid Ushakov his "champions."

Evening Moscow said that with all due respect to Viktor and Leonid, it was not sure they truly deserved to be called champions. It said the title is hopelessly in dispute, since no records or statistics are kept.

Evening Moscow suggested that records be kept on repeaters and that they be given some form of punishment for more than five visits a year to the sobering-up stations.

It carefully pointed out that this was no call for a crackdown on all drunks. Heavy drinking is a tradition in the Soviet Union and people are tolerant, providing drinking does not go to extremes.

Three Teams Chopped From Unbeaten List

In This Corner

with Ray Crandall

Coach Rod Carlson has slowly but surely built a small school football powerhouse at Engadine High School, a member of the Eastern Conference . . . Five years ago the Eagles played only three regulation football games and lost two of them . . . The next fall they won one of six . . . From there on, Engadine's football fortunes climbed steadily as the Eagles won two games in 1963, four in 1964 and five last year . . . This fall Carlson, a native of Norway, has guided his gridders to five straight victories and at least a share of the Eastern Conference crown.

* * *

Hancock needed a touchdown with less than a minute remaining in the game against Ontonagon for a 19-13 victory in Copper Country Conference action . . . The Bulldogs trailed throughout the entire game until quarterback Dick Salani sneaked over from the one yard line with 36 seconds left on the scoreboard clock . . . Salani also scored Hancock's first touchdown on a two yard run and passed for the second, hitting Keith Willis with a 39 yard payoff pitch.

* * *

Coach Bill Lucier's Michigan Tech Huskies, after three straight road trips, get a chance to perform at home Saturday when they host Winóna in a Northern Intercollegiate Conference clash . . . Tech will carry a 2-1 record into the game while Winona will be seeking its first victory of the season . . . The Huskies led Moorhead State three times last Saturday but missed two of three conversion attempts and bowed by a 21-20 margin.

* * *

Stambaugh, already hurting with the loss of star halfback John Shepich with a broken arm, suffered another severe jolt last week when senior halfback John Budnik was sidelined during the game against Bessemer with two fractured ribs . . . Coach Don McDonald's Hilltoppers had to come from behind twice to tie the Speed Boys, 14-14 . . . The final touchdown came on a two yard sneak by Dennis Margoni with three and a half minutes left in the game.

* * *

Al Schupp, Iron Mountain's sensational sophomore miler last track season, is one of the Upper Peninsula's outstanding flankers as a junior this fall . . . Schupp latched onto two touchdown passes from Rudy Steiner to trigger the Mountaineers to a 34-7 Menominee Range Conference decision over Norway . . . Norway's workhorse halfback Dave Solda, a junior, rambled for 207 yards in 29 carries.

* * *

Coach George McCormack's Gwinn Model Towners fashioned a major upset when they ambushed Houghton, 25-16, in a game that was arranged when both teams came up with open dates last Saturday . . . Gwinn defensive backs intercepted four passes thrown by Jerry LaJeunesse and returned them for a total of 133 yards and one TD, a 53 yard scamper by Andy Hines . . . George Tucker, Dick Bassett and Randy Foster scored the other Gwinn touchdowns.

* * *

While the rest of the Upper Peninsula is neck deep in football, Lake Superior State College at Sault Ste. Marie turns its attention to hockey this week . . . Michigan's newest four year state supported college (formerly known at Soo Tech) will field a hockey team for the first time this season with Ron Mason, former St. Lawrence University All-American, as coach.

. . . to Escanaba and to the Teachers' Conference.

We hope your stay is an enjoyable one and that you return soon!

Two Perfect Records Remain In Peninsula

The Upper Peninsula high school football season entered the home stretch this week with only two teams boasting undefeated, untied records.

A large school on the western tip of the Peninsula and a small one in the eastern edge of the region still carry perfect records.

The Ironwood Red Devils survived their stiffest test of the season when they knocked off No. 2 ranked Calumet, 26-21. The Eagles of Engadine also hurdled their toughest obstacle to date by beating Soo Loretto, 26-19. Both the winners boosted their season record to 5-0.

Three Teams Fall

Three teams were chopped off the select list last weekend as Holy Name bowed to Menominee, 20-7, St. Ignace slipped to downstate Alpena Catholic Central by a 6-0 margin and Calumet was edged by Ironwood.

Menominee and Stambaugh, teams that battled to a 7-7 tie in their season opener Sept. 2, have yet to taste defeat. Stambaugh settled for its second deadlock, against three victories, when Bessemer came up with a 14-14 standoff against the Hilltoppers last Saturday.

Coach Wayne Melchiori's Red Devils, rated the No. 1 team in the Peninsula for the third straight week in the U. P. writers' poll, will put their perfect record on the line Saturday at Bessemer in a Michigan-Wisconsin Conference contest. Bessemer has won one, lost three and tied one to date this season.

Coach Rod Carlson, whose Engadine Eagles are off to the best start in the school's football history, will play host to downstate Petoskey St. Francis Saturday afternoon. Engadine has clinched at least a share of the Eastern Conference championship with only one foe remaining. The Eagles face Pickford Oct. 14 and a victory in that game would give them undisputed possession of their first conference crown.

Powers Also Perfect

A third team with an unblemished record in the U. P. is Powers-Spalding of the Wolverine Conference, a four-team league that competes in eight man football. Coach Tom LeQuia's Tigers have won three straight starts and travel to Pembine Saturday. Rock is at Bark River in the other Wolverine game this week.

The Escanaba Eskymos, who evened their season record at 2-2 with a 55-0 romp over Stephenson, face a tough downstate Alpena team in a Parents Day game at the Esky athletic field Saturday afternoon. Alpena is 2-1.

Coach Tom O'Neil's Holy Name Crusaders will be seeking to bounce back into the victory column in a nonconference game at Manistique Friday night. The host Emeralds snapped their four game losing streak by upsetting Gladstone, 20-9, in a Great Lakes surprise last Saturday.

Johnny Sain Joins Tigers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Detroit Tigers filled two more coaching positions Tuesday night by signing Johnny Sain and Hal Naragon, both with the Minnesota Twins last season.

The joint announcement by the Tigers and the Twins came at the World Series here after the Twins had given Detroit permission to talk to the pair.

The signings left new Detroit Manager Mayo Smith only one vacancy to fill his coaching staff. Tony Cuccinello, recently let go by the Chicago White Sox, signed earlier.

Sain, a pitching coach, and Naragon, a bullpen coach, replace Stubby Overmire and Mike Roarke, released by the Tigers, but still in the Detroit organization.

Sain, 48, pitched 12 years in the major leagues before turning to coaching with Kansas City in 1950, then the New York Yankees from 1961 through 1963 and finally the Twins in 1965. He was given much of the credit for Minnesota's mound success in 1965 that helped the Twins to the American League pennant.

Naragon, 38, played in the majors for 10 years as a second string catcher and has been a coach with the Twins since 1963.

The Twins said they have talked to Ray Berres, who retired after he was dismissed recently as a White Sox coach.

Can Spartans Win On Defense Alone?

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan State's No. 1 national ranking runs into jeopardy Saturday when the Spartans tangle with arch-rival Michigan.

There are those who feel Michigan State can win on defense alone but that might be cutting it too thin in a game which is always emotionally fired up.

But Spartan Coach Duffy Daugherty might have something up his sleeve for the Wolverines.

Daugherty admitted to the Chicago football writers Tuesday that "We might have exploited the passing of Jimmy Raye against Illinois' stacked defenses" in a hard-earned 26-10 triumph over the Illini.

"But I wanted to see if we would run against a stacked defense because we're going to see a lot of that this year," said Daugherty.

"Certainly, I was disappointed in our offense," said Daugherty, "but our defense was great."

Michigan State, with fine runners like Raye, Clinton Jones and Bob Apisa, gained only 137 yards rushing against the Illini and the Spartans might have to open up a little more if they hope to hurdle Michigan.

Daugherty and Michigan Coach Bump Elliott both are discounting Michigan's 21-7 upset loss to North Carolina.

"Michigan's a much better team than that game indicated," said Daugherty. "Its possible they were looking ahead to this week."

Elliott also said it was possible his Wolverines were looking ahead "but that should be no excuse. They should worry about the game on hand.

"North Carolina is not a great team but will get better as the season progresses," said Elliott. "We made enough mistakes in that game to last us the entire season.

"We moved well early in the game but fumbles and interceptions hurt us, North Carolina picked up good momentum in the second half and gradually became a stronger team.

"Michigan State is a big, strong team and is the bona fide No. 1 team in the nation. Illinois did a good job against Michigan State and still lost. It'll take a maximum effort to beat them," said Elliott.

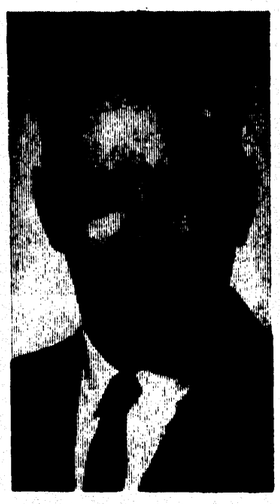
Tourist Council Sets Budgets; Makes Awards

A budget of $240,000 for advertising Michigan as a site for vacations in spring and summer next year was approved by the Michigan Tourist Council at its meeting here. The amount is about the same as last year.

The Council heard a presentation of plans for the advertising program, which will use a theme of the many summers in Michigan, all occuring at the same time.

During a dinner meeting Monday evening, a special award was presented to State Sen. Thomas F. Schweigert for his aid to the tourist industry. Orrey Strohpaul of Grand Rapids presented the plaque. A similar award will be presented Sen. Joseph Mack of Ironwood.

The awards were for creation of the Senate and House Tourist Industry Committee of the Michigan Legislature, which gives tourism a special stauts in state government consideration, providing a State Tourist Council budget item even as a unit of the Conservation Department.



Sen. Thomas Schweigert

Increased appropriations to advertise the state's resources, thus building jobs and tax base through expansion of the tourist industry, and establishment of legislative permanent committees for the tourist industry were cited.

Schweigert said he accepted the award in behalf of the many who had helped make the achievements possible and expressed gratitude to work of his predecessors in the senatorial office, the House tourist committee chairman, and representatives of the tourist associations.

Studies have shown that 24 persons a day per year in the tourist industry is the equivalent of a $100,000 payroll.

A program on the Tourist Council's program of promotion was presented by Arthur Underwood, deputy. The tourist industry is third largest in the state, ranking after agriculture and manufacturing, and has 35,000 business establishments, directly employing 130,000 persons.

An additional 50-to 100,000 jobs will be created with adequate promotion in the next 10 years. Seventy-two per cent of those requesting information on vacations in Michigan come, he said.

Two Hurt When Car Swerves

Two persons had injuries when a car swerved for deer on US-2 in Garden township at 3 a.m., Monday. State Police said Eldred Jones, 20 of Fayette, Ky., had slight injuries when he swerved the car he was driving and a passenger, Robert Bertchm 23 of Sylvania, Ohio, had a severe shoulder dislocation and body bruises. The car rolled over after going out of control.

Hospital

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital were Celia Salter, James Zellner, Josephine Brisbois, Carl Carlson, Dorothy Robere, Mary Modroo, John Granstadt, JoAnn Nelson, Lucille Leonard and Geraldine LaMarche.

Discharged were Maxine Gorsche, Tyra Ayotte, Dave MacGregor and Bernard Chartier.
